Observations:

- In core branches, the number of females is lower compared to computer-allied branches.
- The distribution of teaching faculty across different departments indicates balanced levels of gender representation.
- Among the doctorate faculty, both male and female faculty hold key administrative positions.
- The gender distribution among non-teaching staff members reflects varying levels of gender representation.
- In student committees, male representation outweighs female representation, primarily because the proportion of male students over females is higher.

Action Plan:

- Promote female students to take leadership training programs.
- Encourage greater participation of female students in co- and extracurricular activities.
- Conduct awareness campaigns and workshops to promote gender equality.

To,
The Principal,

Subject: Raise Your Voice

The VCET NSS Committee successfully hosted its annual Elocution Competition on February 23rd, 2023, under the theme of "G20 Summit." The event aimed to provide a platform for students to showcase their public speaking skills and engage in thoughtful discussions on Vasudhaiva Kutumbakam.

This year's theme for the competition is the "G20 Summit," a topic of global significance. Participants had a maximum of 7 minutes to eloquently present their thoughts on Vasudhaiva Kutumbakam in English representing their department. It was an excellent opportunity for our students to showcase their public speaking skills and engage in meaningful discussions.

The winner of the competition was Mitali Rawat and runner up was Harsh Solanki Shimpi and were awarded with exciting cash prizes. To ensure fair representation, one participant from each department will be selected by their respective Heads of Department. We anticipate active participation from our students, making this event a great success.

Thank you.

Subject: Report on National Girl Child Day, 24th January 2022

A world without girls is as impossible as a world without water. The world could come to a standstill without the existence of girl child. So for that a campaign was conducted by NSS Committee of Vidyavardhini's College of Engineering and Technology, Vasai(w) on 24th of January on the occasion of National Girl Child Day. The main objective of this initiative was to motivate society to feel proud to be parents of a girl child, which will eventually help in dealing with the problems arising out of gender imbalance.

As to promote the feeling of pride for being a parent of a girl child, participants were asked to share their selfies or short videos with their daughters. The "Selfie With Daughter" campaign is closely linked with the "Beti Bachao, Beti Padhao" programme, which aspires to raise public and political awareness for the rights and needs of girls. Certificates were also provided to the participants.

In this campaign not only students but faculty and other staff members also enthusiastically participated by sharing pictures with their daughters. Students along with faculty members participated in this campaign.

Thank You,

In this modernized era where the world is facing major issues like rape, economy failure, religiousism etc gender equality or pseudo equality does exist. Men and women have equal rights and equal responsibilities towards this world, which will help our nation to become a better and prosperous one. We say that men and women are equally competent then why do we lack to serve justice to the one who actually suffers gender inequality. They are equally responsible for their actions in this emerging world. Why do men who are actually innocent suffer because of the ones who are guilty? Why do women play girl card to save themselves? Why is a woman objectified in this era? Why do we depend on men for our livelihood? Why do we expect men to serve us when we are equally responsible for it. Women playing girl card should be punished because it not only highlights a girl being saved after causing major issues but also makes it worse for the boy to face this judgemental world. Boys who are innocent should be saved from such danger which will definitely lead us to become a gender equal society/world. On the other hand women after marriages are not recruited by companies because of the fear of starting a family. Women who faces such issues not only leads them to snatching of their golden opportunity of being independent but also makes them feel responsible for something which they are not. They should be supported because they create the world and help the world to become a better one. Why is a boy asked about his salary structure when he is about to marry a girl? Why not realising that they both can uplift their families in a well defined manner. Both can not only fulfil the basic requirements but also fulfill their wishes. Why celebrating only women's day why not celebrating men's day? They equally contribute and strive hard to feed their family and provide them the basic necessities. We should not forget the bravery acts of Chatrapati Shivaji Maharaj but also embrace the braveness of Rani Laxmi Bai. We should equally respect transgenders, lesbians and gays. Our law accept people as they are. We don't need to pretend to make others happy. This provides today's youth a opportunity to think of themselves in a broader aspects. We should not look upon those people. Transgenders are born with that. They have no role in manipulating their body parts. Gays and lesbians develop their habit during their growing course of time. We should help them and create a place for them in the society which is polite and accepting towards them rather being rude and harsh. We should work for their upliftment so that no parent feels ashamed to accept their kids with such defaults. Today we experience Amazing transformation of male into female and vice versa. This shows that men and women equally understand each other's worth and want to experience something amazing in their lifetime. Both should realise that they do lack in something or the other and accepting that will help them to become the building block of each other in their hard times. We have come across witnessing several generations on the basis of their equality, now it's time for us to become the one which will not only help men but also women to walk shoulder to shoulder in this world full of competition and full of struggle. We always hear people saying every successful man has a women behind him let's make our world a place where men will equally support women to achieve great things in their life and will not feel ashamed if their accomplishments go less in front of their partners. Lets remember and embrace the words said by legendary 'Micheal Jackson': "heal the world make it a better place for you and for me and the entire human race".

Seminar on "Women leadership and Work Life Balance"

INTRODUCTION:

The "Women Empowerment Committee" of VCET has been a proud host of numerous informative seminars and workshops over the past few years. This year as well, amidst the pandemic, The WEC decided to virtually organise an interactive session on "Women leadership and Work Life Balance" via live streaming on YouTube for motivating women and guiding them. The session commenced at 2pm by a brief introduction and acknowledgement of our guest speaker followed by sharing her knowledge and experience on epitomizing the work-life balance.

The seminar was addressed by our honourable guest Dr. Dipti Joshi. (BE, PGDFM, MA Eco, MA Edu, PhD). She is a Researcher, Educationalist, Entrepreneur, Investor, Groomer, Philanthropist and has been appreciated with several awards throughout her journey.

OBJECTIVE:

The target audience were women who invested in growth and development while pursuing their own dreams and passions. A significant number of women face pressure to choose between work and family life, rather than encouragement to pursue both simultaneously.

The seminar seeks to empower women who desire both families and careers by analysing the work-life balance strategies of women in leadership. Moreover, it aimed to give insight into each woman's frame of reference regarding identity, types of relationships, personal drive and motivation and adaptive style.

EXECUTION:

There was a sincere attempt to make the session interesting and interactive for the audience by having a question answer round towards the end of the seminar. The seminar focused to explore and discover coping strategies, advice for preparing for the dual roles, and practical strategies for balance to see if any themes and or new discoveries emerge. The speaker also suggested that women are happiest when they are given the opportunity to have both a career and a family. The speaker motivated women by reassuring that woman are a pool of talented, trained resources that should be utilized to advance every organization. In fact, utilizing women to the fullest of their abilities is not a cost but an investment. It was also highlighted that although balancing multiple roles can be stressful, each individual role provides opportunities for learning and mastery which increase satisfaction. The correlation between women and better performance of the organizations they work for was also put light upon. The audience was educated that it is a moral obligation to find out why there is a lack of women in leadership at the top in organizations and that each organization needs to demonstrate a commitment to having all voices represented and heard.

Lastly, Issues like "It feels like our family suffers because of our job and our job suffers because of our family." were addressed by our speaker.

CONCLUSION:

Under the guidance of our faculty members, the seminar was successful at aiming to appreciate and help women with some wonderful tips on life balance who are constantly working from home, at home, for home with such calmness.

The viewers were co-operative and attentive and were not only asked to take note of the topics touched upon, but were also advised to implement the same in their respective lives. The real-life experiences shared by the speaker instilled a drive in all to succeed without any fear or limitation.

The session was concluded at about 3.30pm with a Vote of Thanks by the President of WEC, Sakshi Shukla. A valuable MANTRA to advice the youth today was shared by our guest speaker in order mark it memorable and noteworthy.

"The most effective and efficient individuals are often those who are confident in managing responsibilities in all spheres of their lives."

Seminar on "Manifestation of Women"

INTRODUCTION:

The "Women Empowerment Committee" of VCET has been a proud host of numerous informative seminars and workshops over the past few years. It has always been praised by professors, students, principal sir, guest speakers and many others. This year on the occasion of International Women's Day (08 March, 2021), the WEC organised its second virtual session on "Manifestation of Women" via YouTube live stream in order to make women realize the power in feminine energy.

The seminar was addressed by our honourable guest Ms. Supriya Chitre (A Retired Squadron Leader and the Founder and Director of Udaan Foundation, Nashik). She was commissioned in the education branch of the Indian Airforce in 2007. She has pursued her post graduate degree in Clinical psychology from S.P. college Pune and has studied Business Management from IIM Indore. She has also been an NCC cadet of 1Mah (Airwing). Being an educationist and psychologist by profession she has had a fruitful tenure of 10 years in the Indian Air force and has served in the National Defence Academy as a psychologist, counsellor, and instructor.

OBJECTIVE:

The target audience were women who aim to make life-determining decisions owing to different problems they face in the society. A significant number of women face pressure to choose between work and family life, rather than being encouraged to pursue their passion and lead life independently.

The objective of this seminar was to empower women who seek access to opportunities without any limitations or restrictions such as in education, profession and in their way of life. Perhaps feeling entitled to make your own decisions creates a sense of empowerment.

EXECUTION:

The session commenced at 12pm IST with a brief introduction and acknowledgement of our guest speaker followed by a one-on-one QnA session with an attempt to make the webinar interesting and interactive, thereby guiding the aspiring minds with some exemplary thoughts. The session focused on feminine traits namely vision, creation and intuition that allow us to create the blue print for building the self-fulfilled life we want to lead. The speaker motivated women by reassuring that women are a pool of talented, trained resources that should be utilized to advance every organization. In fact, utilizing women to the fullest of their abilities is not a cost but an investment. The speaker also suggested that women need to be aware not only of their own growth, but that of those around them and also educated the audience on various career opportunities as a woman in the field of armed forces.

The following questionnaire was addressed by our speaker in the session:

1. Who inspired you to take up this career and why?
2. How old were you when you decided to join IAF and were there any objections from your family, peers for a woman to take such a bold decision?
3. The recent debate about the entry of women officers in the armed forces has been highly ill-informed and subjective in nature. So how does the recruitment and selection process take place now?
4. What is the preparation required to join defence forces? Also, what is the minimum qualification required?
5. Are there any misconceptions or myths that you would want to clear regarding the scope of women in this field?
6. You were an education officer in IAF. So, what was your work profile and what are the different portfolios in defence?
7. Well, as we all know how important one's mental health is, so are there any measures taken for the well-being of our officers?
8. How would you like to describe your experience in the National Defence Academy? And, as a female leader, what has been the most significant barrier in your career?
9. Can you tell us more about your very own organisation UDAAN and the other initiatives taken for empowering girls?
10. What are some of the advices you would like to share with young women entering a male-dominated profession?

The webinar received an exceptional response of 500+ viewers who were extremely co-operative and attentive. The real-life experiences shared by the speaker instilled in all an empowering drive to succeed without any fear or limitation.

Literati - The Literary Club

EXTEMPORE

With the successful commencement of all the previous year's events, the magazine committee retitled as 'Literati - The Literary Club' reinforced the vision and mission of the committee along with the very many activities they hold. For the very first time, Literati organized 'Unscripted - The Extempore Competition'. It proved to be an amazing platform for students to showcase their skills and creativity.

Extempore is an event where the participants are given a topic on the spot and they are expected to deliver a speech on the same. Participants are judged on their oratory and knowledge of the topic. Apart from this, participants were also judged on their preparedness for a topic they heard only a few seconds before. All participants displayed excellent oratory skills. The excitement about the event was evident from the jam packed seminar hall and timely applauds.

LITERATI

The event was enlightened by the presence of an experienced personality who is skilled and enthusiastic to listen to the students' views. Our judge, Mr Kenny Rodrigues has had a staggering 22 years of teaching experience and is currently associated with Swami Vivekanand International School, Kandivali West, as an English teacher. He has also worked as an assistant director with many reputed TV serials. He enjoyed all the participants coming forward to express their views on the topics based on real time needs and events which were wisely selected by Literati.

The event was held on 9th march 2020 and was the first event of our Lit Fest 2020. There were a total of 8 participants, one from each department and a winner and runner-up. The event concluded with a huge round of applause to appreciate the efforts put in by the committee members. This marked the end of yet another successful event.
